SPONSORSHIP PROPOSAL

About the conference

The International Conference on Computers in Education (ICCE) is a leading annual conference series organised by the Asia-Pacific Society for Computers in Education (APSCE). ICCE brings together approximately 300 international participants from academia, industry, and government, alongside emerging researchers and doctoral students who represent the next generation of leaders in education and technology.

ICCE 2026 will be hosted by the University of Canterbury and held at the Rydges Latimer Hotel, Ōtautahi Christchurch, Aotearoa New Zealand, from 30 November to 4 December 2026. Pre-conference events, including the Doctoral Student Consortium, workshops, and tutorials, will be held during the first two days, followed by the main conference from 2 December 2026.

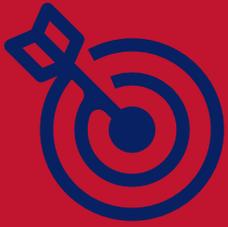

The conference welcomes papers covering emerging topics and research findings across all sectors Computers in Education, including but not limited to Artificial Intelligence, Education, Computer Science, Engineering, Information Science and Social sciences.

The theme for ICCE 2026 will be

Reimagining Learning Ecologies in the Age of Intelligent Technologies

Benefits as a Sponsor

1. Position your organisation as a leader in learning and intelligent technologies

Align your brand with one of the Asia-Pacific region's leading research conferences in computers in education. Sponsors gain visibility among internationally recognised researchers, educators, policymakers, and innovators shaping the future of technology-enhanced learning.

2. Connect with emerging research talent and future workforce leaders

Engage with doctoral students, early-career researchers, and senior academics working at the forefront of AI, digital learning, and human-technology interaction. ICCE provides unique opportunities to support and build relationships with future leaders in research, industry, and education.

3. Strengthen partnerships and contribute to global knowledge exchange

Support international collaboration and innovation while demonstrating commitment to advancing education, research, and technology. Sponsors are recognised across conference publications, events, and international academic networks.
